

About This Newsletter!

Every community is a balance of generosity and necessity. Those who can, give. Those who receive, give back.

The Greater Alliance Foundation is the ridge that unites individuals and organizations to those who put resources toward the common good and special causes.

This quarterly newsletter, Together, tells the often overlooked and unsung stories of those who come together to make a positive influence on greater Alliance.

These are our stories, Alliance

More than 10,000 Alliance-area kids learn to swim

Over the past 20 years, more than 10,000 second-graders have taken part in the Learn to Swim program at the Alliance Family YMCA – generous donors to the Greater Alliance Foundation have made this possible – helping our kids be more safe and confident in the water!

Best-selling authors visit Alliance

New York Times and USA Today bestselling author Karen Harper visited the Rodman Library in Alliance as part of the annual Fogle Author Series that is made possible by a grant from the Greater Alliance Foundation. Other authors who also visited Alliance were Dr. John Walker, Dr. Mary Doria Russell and James A. Willis.

EMS workers help emergency victims

EMS workers will be able to transmit essential health information ahead as they transport emergency victims to the Alliance Community Hospital, thanks to the addition of innovative new technology funded in part by a grant from the Greater Alliance Foundation from the Richard Spittler Memorial Fund.

Watch for these complete stories and many more in our new quarterly newsletter.

About the Greater Alliance Foundation

Our mission is to strengthen our community by serving and connecting people, resources, and needs through philanthropic giving. Our goal is to match charitable intentions with specific needs through a carefully managed program. This will attract endowment resources and provide donors, recipients, and the community responsible stewardship of funds for the betterment of greater Alliance. We make grants to improve the quality of life for people in our community.
